

SPANISH PREMIER SHOT AND KILLED

PITIFUL ENDING OF THE LIFE OF A GREAT STATESMAN.

Victim of Anarchist Hatred—Senor Canovas Shot by an Italian at the Baths of Santa Agueda—Death Follows in a Short Time—The Murderer Arrested.

Madrid, Aug. 9.—Senor Antoni Canovas del Castillo, the prime minister of Spain, was assassinated Sunday at Santa Agueda by an anarchist. The murderer fired three shots, two of which struck the premier in the head and the other in the chest. The wounded man lingered unconscious for two hours and died at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The wounded statesman fell dying at the feet of his wife, who was with him.

lingering in agony for an hour and then passing away with the cry of "Long live Spain," which were the last words upon his lips.

Santa Agueda is noted for its baths. The place is between San Sebastian, the summer residence of the Spanish court, and Vittoria, the capital of the province of Alava, about thirty miles south of Bilbao.

The premier went there last Thursday to take a three weeks' course of the baths, after which he expected to return to San Sebastian to meet United States Minister Woodford, when that gentleman should be officially received by the queen regent.

At the moment of the assassination he was waiting in the gallery of the bathing establishment for his wife, who was to join him for luncheon. Suddenly the assassin, who had the appearance of an ordinary visitor, approached and fired at him point blank, one bullet passing through the body and coming out behind under the left shoulder, and the other two lodging in the head. He fell instantly and only recovered consciousness long enough to speak a few words.

Several medical men and his wife were unremittent in their attentions to the sufferer, but his wounds, unhappily, were mortal, and he died in two hours. Extreme unction was administered amid a scene of mingled sorrow and indignation. The assassin narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the waiters and attendants who rushed forward. Detectives and civil guards immediately secured him. He was very pale, trembled violently, and evidently feared that he would be killed on the spot. He will be first arraigned before the local magistrates at Vergara.

The queen regent on hearing the sad news dispatched her own physician, Dr. Bustos, by a special train from San Sebastian. Later, on learning that Canovas was dead, she wired her condolences to the widow.

The assassin is a Neapolitan and gives the name of Rinaldi, but it is believed that this is an assumed name and that his real name is Michele Angino Goli.

The murder declares that he killed Senor Canovas "in accomplishment of a just vengeance," and that the deed is the outcome of a vast anarchistic conspiracy.

The remains of Senor Canovas will be brought here. Marshal Martinez Campos has gone to San Sebastian to attend the queen regent.

Her majesty has intrusted the presidency of the council to General Azaraga, minister of war, and the cortes will be summoned to reassemble on Tuesday.

The greatest excitement and indignation prevails among all classes. All the members of the diplomatic corps have expressed their sympathy with the government. Many senators, deputies and generals, while expressing their grief and indignation, have offered to render to the government all the assistance in their power.

It was at first rumored that the assassin was one of the pardoned Barcelona anarchists, but this is not confirmed.

Senor Sagasta, the liberal leader, has sent the following telegram to the government: "I have heard with deep pain of the crime that has thrown us all into mourning, and I place myself at the orders of the government and of the queen."

Most of the Liberal leaders have sent similar messages, placing themselves at the disposal of the government.

La Correspondencia de Espana says that a few days ago an important document emanating from London was received here with reference to plans prepared by English anarchists in conjunction with foreign anarchists, at a meeting held in London, when accusations and threats were launched against Senor Canovas and Senor Tejada de Valderosa, minister of justice, probably, the paper adds, with the idea of avenging their Barcelona comrades.

LIFE AND WORK OF CANOVAS.

Showing How He Rose from the Masses to Head of the Ministry.

Madrid, Aug. 9.—Senor Antonio Canovas del Castillo was born of humble parentage at Malaga, Feb. 8, 1828. He took the course in philosophy and law in the University at Madrid, and began his career as a journalist.

In 1851 he made his debut under the patronage of Senors Rios, Rosas and Pacheco, as chief editor of the Patria, in which he defended conservative ideas. In 1852 he was named deputy for Malaga, and from that time to his death had never ceased to occupy a seat in the cortes. In 1856 he was charged d'affaires at Rome, and prepared, the historical memorandum on the relations of Spain with the holy see which served as a basis for the concordat.

After serving the crown as governor of Cadiz in 1855, director general of the administration from 1858 to 1861, and lastly, in that same year, as under secretary of state for the interior, the queen called him to the ministry as a member of the Mon cabinet. In 1865 he held the portfolios of finance and the colonies in the O'Donnell cabinet, and it devolved upon him to draw up the law for the abolition of the slave trade. He was banished a short time before the revolution occurred, and took no part in it. In the face of the triumphant revolution, after his return from exile and in the full constituent assembly of 1868, supported by Senors El duayem, Bugallé and two others, he hoisted the standard of legitimate and constitutional monarchy. This is his greatest title to fame. Senor Canovas del Castillo became president of the council and chief of the new cabinet, called the cabinet of conciliation. He retired in September, 1875, because of the demands of the extreme Conservative party, but he was called back to the presidency on Dec. 2 of the same year and charged particularly with the direction of the first legislative elections of the new regime. It devolved upon him to repress the second attempt of the Carlists to bring on a civil war and to deal with the first insurrection in Cuba.

Canovas came last into power on Feb. 7, 1895. His government was defeated on a vote of censure on June 3, 1895, but did not resign. The general elections of April, 1896, returned an overwhelming majority to the cortes in favor of the policy of the Canovas cabinet, though the opposition charged that the ministerialists carried many of the election districts by gross frauds. He has been in power since.

Excitement in Havana.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 9.—Intense excitement prevails in Havana over the news of Premier Canovas' assassination. Enormous crowds assembled before all the newspaper offices to read bulletins about the murder of the prime minister. Among the Spanish of all classes most profound sorrow was expressed. It was everywhere pronounced to be a calamity of too great magnitude to be estimated at this time. All recognize that its bearing on affairs in Cuba is of the greatest moment, but of necessity comment on this point is most guarded. The insurgent party is confident that the death of Canovas means the downfall of the conservative government, the recall of Weyler and the freedom of Cuba.

MEN ARE COMING WITH "THE DUST"

A QUANTITY OF GOLD ON ITS WAY FROM ALASKA.

One Man Has 1,300 Pounds—Rumors as to the Enormous Quantity of the Precious Metal To Be Had in the Klondyke Region Are Confirmed by a Letter.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 9.—A letter has been received from Mrs. Chester Adams, formerly of Winlock, Wash., which says that one man is now on his way from Dawson City, via St. Michael's, with 1,300 pounds of gold dust. At $15 an ounce this is worth $234,000. According to the letter the next steamer from St. Michael's, due at San Francisco about Aug. 20, will bring out at least $2,000,000.

Mrs. Adams went to Alaska last spring with her husband. Her letter was written June 30. It confirms the report of the recent discovery of new creeks, which gave every evidence, when she wrote, of equaling El Dorado and Bonanza in wealth. Complete tests to bedrock had not then been made on account of high water, though it was known much of the ground would yield at least $10 to the pan. The rest of the discoveries are on the tributaries of Stewart river, which empties into the Yukon twenty-five miles above Sixty Mile, and in Henderson creek, twelve miles below the mouth of the Stewart river, and the creeks that run into the Henderson.

Last winter's rush to the Klondyke, she says, caused men to leave diggings paying $18 to $30 a day on Glacier, Miller, Franklin, Poker, Chicken, American, Mastodon, Deadwood, Eagle and Harrison creeks. Experience gained on the Klondyke is causing these creeks to be more thoroughly prospected this summer, with the result that they will hereafter return greatly increased yields.

"There are said to be 2,000 or more people on their way here," says Mrs. Adams. "All Sixty Mile and Forty Mile and nearly all Circle City are here, yet miners' wages are $15 in the diggings, and they say they will be that or more this winter. Mr. Adams hired out for $10 a day as soon as he got there. I with another woman went to work dressingmaking last Monday. We figured up $90 Saturday night. My husband went to the mines one day. He met men coming down, staggering under loads of gold, 100 pounds apiece, which they had earned by working mines on shares in the last seven months. Others had 300 to 600 pounds each. Some left on the steamer yesterday with their fortunes. The largest for one man was 1,300 pounds. The steamer, with the $2,000,000 in gold dust, went out yesterday. There has been $1,800 from one pan in one mine, and $16,000 from what two men shoveled into sluice boxes in four hours."

State Meet of Indiana L. A. W.

Terre Haute, Aug. 9.—Terre Haute will be in holiday attire Tuesday and Wednesday for the state meet of the L. A. W. The meet will be given under the auspices of the Wabash Cycling Club. Many riders will come to the city in touring parties. The railroad companies have made a rate of one fare for the round trip from all points within 200 miles. The entries for the eighteen races exceed 400, with 100 different riders. Among the riders are more fast men than ever participated in a state meet in Indiana.

Deed of An Insane Husband.

Bordentown, N. J., Aug. 9.—A wife murder was committed some time during Saturday night at the village of Fieldsborough, near here. While Anna Robinson, aged 31 years, was sleeping in her bed, with two children nestling on her bosom, her crazy husband, James Robinson, cut her throat. Then he drew a razor across his own throat, cutting a deep but not fatal gash. Robinson had been in the insane asylum, but was released by request of his two sisters.

Police Stop Socialists.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 9.—The police dispersed a meeting of socialists in the public square at Roslindale Sunday and arrested the speaker, Martha Moore Avery, a prominent advocate and leader, upon a charge of loitering in violation of the city ordinances. The socialist labor party had extensively advertised a mass-meeting there and in defiance of a notification by the police that they would not be allowed to congregate in the public highway without a permit they met.

Important Process Discovered.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Much interest is taken in French naval circles at the discovery of a composition which is alleged to have the marvelous property of rendering vessels invisible beneath the rays of electric searchlights. It is stated that at the naval maneuvers off Brest, torpedo boat No. 61, representing the enemy, succeeded in traveling unseen the luminous zone produced by the electric projector, thanks to having been coated with the new composition.

Foley Sawmill Is Destroyed.

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 9.—An immense sawmill, owned by the Foley Bros. of St. Paul, was burned Sunday. The mill cost $50,000, and was insured for $19,000. Cause, spontaneous combustion.

SEND NO SOLDIERS ON PRESENT CALL

GOVERNOR TANNER DECLINES TO ACT HASTILY.

Situation Is Not Alarming—Chief Executive of Illinois Thinks the Sheriff Can Control the Striking Miners at Coffeen—Little Work Is Being Done in Indiana.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 9.—In discussing the requests which he has received for troops in order that demonstrations may be made against the striking miners at Coffeen, Governor Tanner said Sunday:

"Some sheriffs telegraph for troops in the same way that a country groceryman telegraphs to his wholesale grocer in the city to send him two boxes of soap and 1,000 cigars, seeming to think that their orders will be honored by the governor without explanation, just as the grocer's order would be."

"Calling out the troops requires very serious consideration. It means, if necessary to keep the peace, the shooting of American citizens indiscriminately. Perhaps among them may be many of those who carried a musket and followed the flag from 1861 to 1865."

"When a matter of such serious import is to be considered it is necessary that the governor have some information on which to act. He ought to be in possession of all the facts."

"The governor is responsible for the calling out of the troops, and he cannot be expected to assume this responsibility on the strength of a mere request from a sheriff."

The governor received a message at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning in answer to the Sunday he wired to the sheriff of Montgomery county Saturday night. The governor did not consider the statements made in this answer to his request for particulars warranted him in sending out the militia, and he did not reply to it.

IOWA MINERS' CONVENTION.

State Strike May Be Ordered at the Ottumwa Meeting.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 9.—A general strike of miners of the state of Iowa will probably be ordered by a delegate convention here to-day. The convention was called by a committee of miners a few days ago to consider the advisability of calling the men out to secure an adjustment of local differences. President Ratchford is also back of the meeting, and his representatives are urging a strike for the benefit it will be to the strike in the eastern territory, though the Iowa men will pay considerably more attention to their own grievances than to Ratchford's. The mine-workers' organization in this state is badly disorganized, and an effort will be made to reorganize. The non-union men of Muchaknock, Colon and other Mahaska points, who have always refused to go on a strike, still declare that they will not go out this year, and promise serious trouble if any marching tactics are indulged in in their vicinity. Operators who employ these men have had state troops guarding them in former strikes, and if any effort is made to make a strike general there will probably be trouble in this section. The operators hope that there will be no strike, for all of their mines are running at fullest capacity.

Crusaders Hear Bradley.

Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 9.—Gen. Bradley made a speech to the visiting miners Sunday morning at their camp. The Coffeen miners refused to attend the speaking. For two days past the village has been under rigid control, almost approaching martial law. No person has been permitted to pass the picket lines, which are posted almost around the village, without stating his business or giving a password. The striking miners are nearly all armed with hickory clubs and many of them with revolvers.

Indiana Mines Closed.

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 9.—Davies county miners have succeeded in closing the mines at Little's and Ayershire. Every mine in the Indiana coal field is closed, and the miners are rejoicing. The Linton miners, who were holding the train at Elmore, released the train when notified, and the crusaders are returning home. No violence of any nature occurred, and quietness reigns throughout the Indiana coal fields.

Fayette County Farmers Affected.

Vandalia, Ill., Aug. 9.—The coal famine is affecting the farmers of this, Fayette county, seriously, now that they are just in the middle of wheat and oat threshing, and cannot get sufficient coal to tide them through. Farmers were in Vandalia Sunday picking up small loads of coal from people who chanced to have it left from last winter.

Effective Work Done Sunday.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 9.—Although Sunday was considered a day of rest among the strikers, probably the most effective work among the Plum Creek miners was performed, and as a result considerably less than 200 men are at work at the mine.

On Their Way to Stop Work.

North Lawrence, O., Aug. 9.—The miners of the Massillon district are on their way to Wadsworth to induce men at work there to stop.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Standing of the Clubs in the Various Leagues.

Yesterday the Colts left the second division, in which they have been enumerated since the season opened, and took Philadelphia's place at the tail of the first division. Cleveland, only four games ahead and playing second-division ball, is not at all secure in fifth place. The Colts will probably outdo the Indians in the games on the eastern trip, which soon opens. The final game on the home grounds before the eastern trip was won in a close finish. The only other game played yesterday was between Cincinnati and Louisville, won by the latter. Havana Suburbs Attacked.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 9.—The insurgents are making daily attacks in the outskirts of Havana. There was a movement in force against Havana Saturday, and the government officials were alarmed. Juan Delgado attacked the town of Arroyo Apolo, four miles from Havana. The combat with the civil guards under the Spanish Col. Paglieri, lasted seven hours. The Spaniards were defeated, and they abandoned the town for Havana after a heavy loss. Andres Hernandez has sent a letter to the mayor of Mariano stating that he will give fifteen days' time for the people to leave the town, and after that date he will burn Mariano.

Much Money for Missions.

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 9.—In Old Orchard's historic amphitheater, whose builder was nature, there was enacted Sunday a scene which will go down into history as one of the most remarkable of the evangelistic gatherings of the time. A collection amounting to $70,000 for the aid of foreign missions was taken. All former mighty gatherings here were exceeded by the course which assembled at the annual foreign missionary meeting of the Christian alliance. The alliance, under Dr. Simpson, has been in session a week, leading up to this star event, as it always is, of the series.

Means the Recall of Weyler.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The assassination of Senor Canovas was the only topic on the streets, in hotels and at the clubs. Senator Morgan, head of the minority membership of the foreign relations committee, talked freely. "The assassination, while the work of an anarchist, is the result of the anti-war agitation in Spain," said the senator. "There is a resentment against Weyler, and the anarchists remember the Barcelona riots and the horrible execution of some of their number by the captain general in Cuba. It cannot hurt the Cuban cause; it may help it, for it will certainly result in the recall of Weyler."

Political Outlook in Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 9.—Of the 781 delegates chosen by the fifty-one Republican county conventions of this state already held the preferences and instructions of about 580 are known as relates to the nomination for governor. There will be 1,546 delegates in the state convention at Cedar Rapids. Of the delegates already chosen the candidates have instructed and pledged as follows: Parrott, 138; Funk, 129; Harlan, 98; Shaw, 85; Byers, 60; Harsh, 47; Flickinger, 30; Fuller, 17.

Indiana Tax Fight.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—Official and legal circles in this city are manifesting considerable interest in the controversy that has arisen between the Indiana Manufacturing company and the state board of tax commissioners over the assessment of patents owned by the former, and it is confidently expected that the question will result in a decided conflict of authority between the board and the federal court.

CRANE LUMBER CO. LOSES BY FIRE

BIG MILL AND YARDS ARE DESTROYED

The Loss Is About Sixty Thousand Dollars, and Is Fully Insured Hot Blaze at Frankfort, But Is Now Under Control—Important Milwaukee Suit Is Decided

Frankfort, Wis., Aug. 9.—[Special]—The Crane Lumber Company's sawmill and the entire lumber yard at South Frankfort were entirely consumed by fire last evening. There was between five and six million feet of lumber in the yards, mostly hardwood and hemlock. The loss is $60,000, fully insured. The fire is under control but was still burning at 2 p. m. today.

Bank Directors Defeated.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 9.—Justice McClintock rendered a decision Saturday in the suit of William Gores, depositor in the Plankinton bank, now failed, against the bank directors for $50.37, the ground being that the directors were personally responsible through gross neglect of duty. This is said to be the forerunner of other similar suits, in which Judge James E. Jenkins, Frederick T. Day and the other directors will be made defendants.

GREATEST L. A. W. MEET.

Philadelphia Does Itself Credit in Entertaining the Crowd.

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—To the credit of the bicycle men of Philadelphia, they have conducted the largest and, all things considered, the most successful national meeting of the League of American Wheelmen. The attendance was larger and more representative of the membership of the league than at any of the seventeen previous meets. The number of contestants in the races was considerably larger in both amateur and professional classes, and the outside entertainment was more entertaining and more varied. The meeting developed the possibility of two important steps in the league, at the L. A. W. assembly in February. One of them is the holding of two "annual" race meets a year hereafter, one in the east and the other in the west. If it is decided to hold two meets next year Omaha stands a good chance to get the "western," and the "eastern" would probably be a long way east of Indianapolis. If there is but one meet it is probable that Indianapolis will be selected to conduct it. The east seems to favor the hoosier capital, and will probably be for it when it comes to voting in the assembly.

The second important step that may be considered at the L. A. W. assembly is the obliteration of the "color line." The presence of Major Taylor on the track here has renewed the interest of colored wheelmen in the L. A. W. and sharpened their desire to join. Should a proposition be made to let them in it will probably be followed by a bitter fight.

Jewish Chautauqua Closed.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 9.—The Jewish Chautauqua, after being in session fourteen days, came to an end Sunday. The session was devoted to hearing the reports read, after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—cancellor—Rev. Dr. Berkowitz, Philadelphia. Executive secretary—Isaac Hassler, Philadelphia. Director of summer assembly—Dr. Lee K. Frankel, Philadelphia. Executive committee—President Dr. Henry Berkowitz. Recording secretary—Clinton O. Mayer, Philadelphia. Treasurer—Max Herzberg, Philadelphia.

National Christian Alliance.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 9.—The annual convention of the National Christian Alliance began here Sunday with between 400 and 500 persons in attendance. The session opened with prayer-meeting at Beulah Park at 6 o'clock in the morning. The opening address was delivered by President O.M. Brown of this city. It is expected that 3,000 visitors will be present during the two weeks that the meeting continues. Many distinguished speakers will be in attendance, and Rev. A. B. Simpson, president of the International Alliance, is expected some time this week.

To Register Patent Attorneys.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Benjamin Butterworth, commissioner of patents, has issued an important order, providing for the registering of attorneys practicing before the United States patent office, with a view to raising the character of such practitioners as a whole. It is likely that Commissioner Butterworth will at the next session of congress ask legislation to authorize him to carry out to their fullest extent his ideas of improving and controlling the class of attorneys allowed to practice before the patent office.

Assassin Denies Any Accomplice.

Paris, Aug. 9.—The Spanish embassy has received a dispatch from Madrid, which says the assassin declared that he had no accomplices, and that, even if there is reason to believe it an anarchist crime, it is without any political ramifications, and that Madrid is quite tranquil.

OTTER CREEK RALLY WAS A ROUSING ONE

TO RAISE MONBY FOR THE ORPHANS.

Resolutions Are Passed, and It Is Hoped That $1,000 Can Be Raised—The Program Presented Under the Direction of President Wright—The Day in the Local Churches.

THE Sunday school at Otter Creek was out in full force yesterday, and delegations came from Milton, Koshkonnong, Johnston, Clinton and Janesville. All entered heartily into the work of the convention. The program:

Three Reasons Why We Should Study the Bible.....Rev. Dr. Platz, Milton
Love the Greatest Power to Reach Old and Young.....J. H. Nicholson, City
The Power of Sympathy.....L. L. Olds, Clinton
How to Reach Boys and Hold Them in the Church.....Mr. Ramsey, Koshkonnong
How to Interest and Hold the Attention.....Mrs. Potter, Otter Creek
Preparation of Lesson.....Mrs. P. F. Magee, Town of Janesville
Social Advantages.....Miss Dunham, Town of Janesville
Preparation of Lesson.....Mrs. M. K. Minch, Otter Creek
The Matchless Power of Music.....Miss Dunham, Town of Janesville

Discussion on the above papers and addresses were earnest and weighty. The singing was inspiring being led by Mr. Olds. The duets by the Schumacher children—brother and sister—were greatly enjoyed as was also the singing of a trio composed of one lady and two gentlemen. The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

WHEREAS the Bible schools of Rock county, Wisconsin feel a sense of gratitude for the peace and harmony we are permitted to enjoy while in other lands cruel massacres have left thousands of children without parents and homes. Therefore RESOLVED That we the Sabbath Schools of Rock county make a united effort and send to Dr. Geo. C. Raynolds, of Van, Turkey, one hundred dollars or more to help him in the maintenance of one thousand orphans.

Resolved, That L. L. Olds and Miss Louise Hanson, secretary and treasurer of this association, present a copy of these resolutions to each school in the county, inviting cooperation by an appropriation or by giving the proceeds of one collection for this object, to be taken on or before September 1. Such contribution to be forwarded to Miss Louise Hanson, treasurer, Janesville, Wis., who will credit each gift and forward same as directed.

Resolved, That the delegates to this convention return thanks to the friends of Otter Creek for their charming hospitality.

Mrs. P. F. McGEE,
L. L. OLDS,
J. H. NICHOLSON, Committee.

There are now over one hundred Sunday schools in the county. Each of these schools should be able to raise at least $10, which would make $1,000 in all.

President J. T. Wright was in charge of the Otter Creek meeting. The attendance was very large, people coming from miles in all directions.

Presbyterian Church
THE sermon at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning was by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Pence. His subject was "Christian Strength and Character," and his text, 1st Chronicles 16:27, "Strength and gladness are in His place."

The preceding chapters of this book tell that a great battle had been fought and a great city had been taken. It was a great time in the history of the Hebrews when at last they had secured a capital. This capital was not to be the mere political centre, but was to be the religious centre as well. And it was the greatest day in the life of David. He had come as the poet and psalmist of that great occasion. God had been preparing him for this consecration of a city to the service of God, and it is God's thought and plan for you that you some time might be like David on this great day, to have an influence to lead, perhaps not a nation, but some one into the kingdom. Your power, if you shall use it to bring some one into the kingdom, if you shall use yourself to your utmost, your glory shall be as bright as David's on that great day.

David says that he wants to bring these people under the power of the same strength that he had, and so he opens this psalm with the exhortation, "Seek ye the Lord and His Strength." And it was that thought that David wanted to bring upon the mind of those people, that they could secure the strength of God to use and mould them. You will find that people are unable to lead a strong life religiously if they do not keep in touch with God. It is that inner touch of God upon the great mainspring of moral and spiritual energies, it is the close intimate touch of His that makes us strong for great life purposes. You need not try to live a successful or strong Christian life if you do not keep yourself so pure, so spotless, at least attempt it, that you may come into the presence of God at your pleasure. You can't be a strong Christian if you are cherishing in your mind sins that keep you from coming to God nearest pleasure.

There are strengths and strengths in life. There is strength that comes from great mental power. We can run over in our minds the men that have had great mental power, that have thrilled nations. But they are gone, and their power is gone. But here is the strength that you and I may take with us. Mental power may decay. Look at the mind of John Ruskin, producing most marvelous volumes upon this subject, and now decaying in his old age—the mental power gone. But religion, the strength, the strength of Christian character comes as the principal heritage of our mind. My friend, give over some of your ambition to command other kinds of power besides this that shall fade away into nothingness. But if that strength that David says comes from closeness to God is yours, then you shall go into heaven mighty for the duties there, but mightier still for the duties that are still here.

At 6:15 the Local Union of Christian Endeavor societies and Epworth Leagues held a most interesting fellowship meeting, led by A. E. Matheson. The subject was "Our Work For Each Other."

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society will give a trolley party Wednesday evening.

The Baptist Church.
A VERY large congregation was present to hear Rev. J. F. Mills who again supplied the pulpit.

His text was in John 1:41-2. The subject was "Personal effort in extending the kingdom of God."

Let us notice in the first place that no one can expect to accomplish anything in this work, without having a strong christian character. Man is highly honored by being the instrument of turning his fellowmen to Christ. See how the disciples gave their personal effort to turn their fellows to Christ. Notice how much personal effort of Christ is told us in the New Testament.

Why is it that the great problem of the salvation of the world is in personal effort. Our efforts need to be concentrated. We can accomplish little by scattering our efforts. We, as christians, need to be as wise as the politician. We need to have something definite in our minds. God has met me to give to individuals. He cares for each of us. This concentration of effort gives us an interest in men. Personal effort simplifies the work of the church. Each individual must do his own work. The general efforts of the pulpit or church amount to very little; it is the personal effort of minister or the member, that counts in the building of the kingdom. This personal effort meets the demand of the individual soul. Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, in her work in the prisons of this country, is a good illustration of this personal work. If we stand off from men and invite them, they will not come. We must come in contact with men and show them by our words and actions that we are in earnest about the salvation of their souls. We must be wise, use all honorable means, but be discreet and wise. Use tact in your work. There is a common ground, if we find it, whereon we can meet these we wish to lead to the Master. Are we anxious to be useful in leading men to Christ. If we are on the lookout for opportunities to help others we will find them. Have you invited others to attend church or to come to Christ. You cannot hire a substitute in this work, but if you are willing the Holy Spirit will lead you and help you to accomplish great things for Christ.

In the evening Mr. Mills took for his subject: "The Making of the Most of Both Worlds." Text Matt. 6:31.

MISS JACKMAN ENTERTAINS
Gave a Pleasant Party in Honor of Her Birthday.

In honor of her eighteenth birthday, Miss Marcia Jackman entertained a number of friends Saturday evening at the Park Place home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jackman. Japanese lanterns were strung about the porch, adding beauty to the scene, while within the house all was gaiety. Miss Mae Valentine and Richard Dake were awarded the honors at the games. Refreshments were served on small tables, and it was well towards midnight when the festivities came to a close. Among those present were:

Misses—
Katherine Vilas, Madison.
Grace Crosby, Syracuse.
Nellie Sparks, Beloit.
Elizabeth Vilas, Madison.

DR. MILLS WRITES OF THE BICYCLE

PAPER ON USE AND ABUSE OF WHEELS.

Machine Does For the Body What Telephone and Telegraph Do For Voice and Thought—Use Should Be Encouraged—The Things To Be Guarded Against.

Dr. James Mills' paper on "The Use and Abuse of the Bicycle," which was read before the Central Wisconsin Medical Society, at Evansville, Wis., June 29, 1897, has been read with interest by physicians, as it treats of a live topic. The paper, in full, is as follows:

The world is on wheels; doctors and ministers, lawyers and teachers, husbands and wives, kings and queens, old and young, rich and poor, are all equal in cycling; and all must pedal, sweat and breathe dust alike. In this they share the same joys and sorrows. Cars and steamboats are whole-some affairs, so far as equalizing our outward conditions is concerned; but your true leveler in locomotion is the bicycle.

In this "age of inventions," what the telegraph and the telephone do for thought and voice, the bicycle does for the body. It is a machine with the power of impulsion induced by the muscular motion of the rider's limbs; it is a horse and buggy combined; costs less than either and fattens on air. It enables the doctor to outride microbes, and catch ozone on the wing. It puts him in prime condition for visiting his patients, and is an amazing economizer of his time and energy. It suggests to him the importance of caution, courage, courtesy and self reliance; and particularly of "looking before leaping." Like the moth that circles about the flame, he will find the danger of "scorching"; and possibly like it, take warning from the sad mishaps of others who often outride him.

It is to the general public interest that legitimate and orderly cycling should be encouraged. The use of the bicycle for traveling, especially in the country, has in it the germ of the solution of the improvement of public highways. When the wheelmen have become sufficiently banded together to compel the maintenance of well paved streets and good roads, and the safe use thereof by them, there will be a heavy falling off in the tribute paid by the people to elevated track magnates and traction barons, who now control our street and railway conveyances, and tax the people for the proud privilege of getting to and from their daily labors.

Beyond all these, there is the certainty of a higher physical standard for the race in the universal employment of a vehicle which insures to its users fresh air and healthful bodily exercise. I believe that the bicycle, properly used, is of very great value to a large number of people who would not otherwise indulge in sufficient outdoor activity.

The majority of accidents to cyclists in the cities are the result of inexperience in riding and the carelessness of the drivers of horses. In Germany and some other European countries, this fact is recognized; and before a novice is allowed to go out upon the public highways, he or she is required to give an exhibition of proficiency before duly appointed examiners. We venture to assert that this would obviate many of the present dangers which are universally admitted to need attention, and would thereby appreciably reduce the number of street accidents.

The subject of bicycling for women is beginning to attract the notice of medical writers. Some French, English, German and American gynecologists have given their opinions upon the subject, and the greater number of them agree that, as a rule, where this exercise is not carried to excess, it is a beneficial one.

In it we seem to have found, at last, a form of an open air muscular work, which induces women to spend many hours away from close rooms and indoor tasks. It exercises and strengthens a large number of muscles of the body, far more than is generally supposed. Ask the beginner or the expert how much bodily balance is required. Ask the woman who sits upright holding tight to the handle bars as she works up a grade how much arm-and-shoulder pull there is in it.

Since bicycling is one of the few popular physical exercises that attract women, it will, under properly prescribed physical conditions undoubtedly show itself capable of large results as an agent in curing pelvic disorders. There is no problem that troubles the physician more than the prescription for proper physical exercise by women in view of her disabilities and the disadvantages under which she has suffered in at attempts to obtain pleasurable and beneficial muscular action. It seems hardly too much to say that the promises from the bicycle are far-reaching. Through it and the habits it will engender, we look for better and freer dress; for rounder limbs, fuller lung cavities, steadier nerves, and better developed muscles.

There are four demands before which the costume of the wheelwoman must pass in review: health, fitness, fashion and artistic beauty.

The third of these is ever at odds with the others. As for art in personal adornment, it can not be said to exist among people who tolerate a combination of sweaters, bloomers and leggings, or the deformed wheelwoman of alleged fashion journals. Yet the principle of the foundation of the dress question seems exceedingly simple. For play of the muscles, freedom is the first requisite, whether in cycling or scrubbing; and we must therefore instruct our patients to make such certain modifications of their dress as is necessary.

One has but to glance at ten riders of the hampered sex, to see nine who, ignorant of some of the rules of good riding, misspily force waste effort and run a certain risk of harm to themselves. The trouble is due chiefly to the lack of training, since the pupil in bicycling is turned adrift on the road as soon as she can balance a wheel, or mount and dismount one. Instruction should be insisted upon to obviate bad habits of riding; and unmerited criticism will thus be avoided.

It would be superfluous before an audience of physicians to do more than to name the ordinary precautions necessary for women who take up wheeling. We lay stress on carefully increasing the length of the ride, and on strict attention to the difficulties thus experienced; on heeding the warning given by the palpitation of the heart, and by labored breathing; on signs of strains of the right heart, which is robust only in laborers and athletes; on frequent rests; on giving heed to chilling and over fatigue; on light food during exercise; on relaxation of the muscles after riding, and on entire abstinence from such riding during the menstrual period.

I have the report of the wife of a physician, who, after riding her wheel for half an hour against a hard wind, had sudden cardiac dilatation, which gives rise to very serious symptoms, and which it required eight months to reduce.

No physical exercise has proved to be more beneficial in many insane hospitals than the riding of the wheel. It is attractive, novel and interesting to the patients, and brings excellent curative results.

Bicycle riding has certain advantages over the present style of horseback riding. The fashionably contorted seat on a saddle horse does not develop the body symmetrically and the awkwardness due to the fact that the transverse diameter of the upper trunk do not correspond, means strain, to say nothing of the useless effort that a trotting gait entails.

When women get into the habit of riding on horseback, part of the time with the stirrup on the right side and part of the time with the stirrup on the left, one objection to the spinal rotation and the unsymmetrical development will be overcome; and it is to be presumed that eventually all women will ride astride, as their great-grandmothers did before the days of Elizabeth. Expense precludes this form of exercise for most women. Cheapness, safety, accessibility, and the small amount of preparation required, are all on the side of the wheel, and hold good even to a greater degree for women than men.

The question is often asked, how is it that we advise women to ride a wheel, while a strong protest has been entered against her running the sewing machine, on account of the harm it may do her pelvic organs. It seems to me that the conditions under which the two forms of leg exercise are taken, are radically different. A woman at the sewing machine must focus her eyes accurately on the point at which the needle is at work, and must drive the material along in even lines under the rapidly moving needle and within the margin of one-sixteenth of an inch. Such a position to a corseted woman brings a strong pressure on the pelvic contents and prevents free circulation.

A word of warning is needed as to the undue pressure that the bicycle seat is liable to make upon the parts of the body in contact with it.

The seat of the bicycle for men seems to have been modeled after the saddle that was found suitable in riding horseback.

Women have generally found great difficulty in having the saddle so adjusted as to be comfortable to them.

To relieve them in this respect several alterations become necessary. In the first place, a woman's pelvis is broader than a man's; and the tuberosities of the ischia are farther apart in woman than in man; consequently, the width of the rear portion of the seat needs to be greater. Secondly, the anterior projection of the seat must be tilted downward. This, however, requires the most delicate adjustment; for if the seat is tilted too far, its scope will cause the rider to slide forward, so as to rest almost entirely upon its anterior projection, and so defeat the objections of the tilting.

There are two possible objections to bicycling by women. The one, over exertion, should be and is easily controlled; the other may be entirely eliminated by the use of the proper seat. Bicycle riding can do no possible harm to a healthy woman, any more than it can to a man, unless it is abused. And for neurasthenics it is an excellent remedy, probably the most valuable we have.

The principal points connected with the proper construction of the machine itself are those relative to a proper fitting seat and an arrangement of its parts enabling the rider to assume a reasonably erect position, so that the weight of the body is in part upon the pelvic bone, and the rest of it is borne by the feet upon the pedals and the hands upon the bars.

Physicians ought to have personal knowledge of this exercise. It is our duty to advise wheel women that they may be carefully trained by competent instructors as to the right methods of pedaling, the correct position of the body, and the height of the seat.

It is plain that the wheel is destined to make a place for itself in the world not only as a luxury and source of pleasure, but as a positive necessity for health and physical development to hundreds of thousands.

The Tariff Bill.....

Has made a marked difference in the prices of many kinds of goods. The "tariff bill" has been hanging fire since March and the date of its passage has been an uncertainty.

During The Months

That the tariff tinkering took place we were searching the market for many kinds of goods and placed our orders for a big supply at old prices. One might think that fall was here judging from the immense amount of new goods that we are receiving.

Case after case, bales and bales of dress goods silks, flannels, blankets, hosiery, table linens, crashes, underwear, yarns, umbrellas, handkerchiefs, domestics, quilts, curtains, undershirts, rugs, matting, carpets, etc.

To the People

It means that they will be able to supply their needs for many kinds of goods at old prices, and have the advantage of selecting from one of the largest stocks of new goods to be found in the whole state, and be sure of getting good quality.

Who Can You Believe ? ? ? ? ?

Were you to read the catalogue of every piano manufacturer in the United States you would find that about all claim to make the finest piano, the cheapest often making the greatest claims and having the most gilt upon the covers of their catalogues. You ask who can we believe. False prophets have made confusion in other days than these, so beware.

A personal examination of the interior of the many pianos will convince you that the REED & SONS PIANO is the finest finished piano in the world. You will admit this as you look into the matter more closely.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

That Common Troubles, Acid Dyspepsia or Sour Stomach.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal many people do nothing for the trouble.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, and at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

HAMMOCK SWINGS, HAMMOCK FRAMES.

SEVEN ARE HURT AT THE CROSSING

Street Car Tossed by Train Yesterday.

NO ONE WAS DANGEROUSLY INJURED.

Benjamin Griffin's Arm Is Broken in Two Places, David Griffin Has His Ankle and Wrist Sprained, while Misses Echlin, Keenan, and Haganey, and James Keenan Are Injured by Flying Splinters—Motor-man Chapin Also Hurt—Car Was Thrown Fifteen Feet.

Seven people were hurt when street car No. 2 was run down yesterday noon on the Academy street crossing, by an outgoing freight on the Northwestern road.

The injured are:
CHAPIN, Frank, motorman, badly bruised and hip wrenched. Internal injuries feared.

GRIFFIN, Benjamin, brakeman, left arm broken near wrist; finger dislocated and him bruised.

GRIFFIN, David, yardmaster, ankle and wrist badly sprained, injuries very painful.

KEENAN, James, passenger, slightly cut by flying wood.

ECHLIN, Miss Jessie, passenger, cut about body and hands by flying splinters.

KEENAN, Miss Ellen, passenger, ankle wrenched and body slightly bruised.

HAGANEY, Miss Irene, passenger, slightly cut by flying splinters.

Had Narrow Escape

The escape of the passengers in the street car was simply miraculous.
Soon after the crash, willing hands were at work extricating the imprisoned and frightened passengers and as soon as possible they were assisted to their homes and medical attention summoned.

Street car No. 2, in charge of Motor-man Frank Chapin, was on time yesterday noon at the Academy street switch, on the way to the cemetery.
When the car started on the return trip Miss Ellen Keenan, Miss Irene Hagane and James Keenan of 307 South Franklin street, who had been at the cemetery, boarded the car. At the corner of Mineral Point avenue, Miss Jessie Echlin of 56 Mineral Point avenue, boarded the car. The trip to the depot was made without incident.

Cars Obstructed the View.

No gate tenders are on duty Sundays and as the car rounded onto Academy street, Motorman Chapin noticed that a string of empty passenger coaches with a caboose attached, stood on the main St. Paul track, projecting out into Academy street to within a few feet of the street car tracks. For this reason his view of the Northwestern tracks, from the south, was obstructed.
Thinking that all was well he started his car across the tracks, but no sooner had he reached the middle of the crossing than he saw a string of flat cars bearing down upon the car.

Motorman Chapin is a cool headed man and gave the car the full current.
The car bounded forward, but the train crashed into the car.

Car Lifted Up.

The street car was thrown into the air, but landed right side up fifteen feet from the track. Yardmaster David Griffin and Brakeman Benjamin Griffin, who were on the flat car that struck the street car, realized their danger in time to jump, but both men were painfully injured. Drs. W. H.
Palmer and James Mills were called to attend them.

The five passengers were all severely shaken up, bruised and cut. They were at once taken to their homes.

Motorman Chapin was picked up fully 15 feet from the car. He was removed to his Riverview Park home in the patrol wagon where Drs. James Gibson and W. H. Palmer attended him.

The street car was badly wrecked.
That both the street car and the railroad companies were to blame for the accident seems to be the opinion of those present.

The street car management claim that a flagman should be stationed there Sundays while the railroad company claims that the conductor should go ahead of his car in order to see that there is no danger.

Didn't See Engine.

The train was composed of a string of flat cars that were being pushed to the gas house to be coupled onto another train. It was owing to the fact that the engine was at the other end of the train that Motor-man Chapin failed to receive the warning.

The freight was in charge of Conductor Frank Rusch.

Motorman Chapin says the accident happened so quickly that he did not realize the situation until it was all over with.

Miss Jessie Echlin says the four occupants of the car were all sitting on one side, in order to avoid the sun.
The crash, she says, came so suddenly that it seemed to her that the "door came up and struck her in the face."

The next thing she knew friends were assisting her from the scene.

Flat Car Wrecked.

The bursting of an air brake hose coupler on an outgoing freight on the Northwestern road yesterday morning at 9 o'clock caused a small sized wreck

JOHN AIRIS DEAD

AT RIPE OLD AGE

A WELL KNOWN RESIDENT IS CALLED HOME.

He Was One of the Pioneer Mason Contractors of the City, and Had Lived Here for Many Years—Came to Janesville from Scotland—The Funeral To Be Held Wednesday.

John Airis, one of the pioneer mason contractors of this city died at his home, 207 North River street at 3:30 o'clock this morning at the advanced age of eighty-two years.

Mr. Airis was born at Windywa's Roxboroughshire, Scotland, on June 18, 1815—the day of the battle of Waterloo. He learned his trade in the "old country" and had held the position of slater and glazier to the Lukes of Roxborough. In 1840—fifty seven years of age—he was married in Scotland to Miss Jeannette Fer-grieve. In 1853 Mr. and Mrs.
They came to Janesville direct, and this city has since been their home.
Mr. Airis at once began work at his trade, his first engagement being on the Hyatt house, which was then building. At one time he was associated with John Galletti in the mason business. Later Mr. Galletti retired, and Mr. Airis' son, George, became associated with his father.

A widow and eight children survive
Mr. Airis. The children are, Mrs.
B. Geddes, of Platteville; Mrs. James Shearer, Robert Airis, William
Airis, and George Airis of this city;
Thomas Airis of St. Louis; Adam Airis of Eau Claire; and Walter Airis of Rockford. Two sisters also survive him, being Mrs. William Hume, of Oshkosh; and Mrs. Agnes Oliver, of Oneonta, N. Y.

Mr. Airis was one of Janesville's best known and most respected citizens and his death will be generally mourned. He has been in poor health for about three years, and had been confined to his bed for about three months.

The funeral will be held from the home on North River street at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral of Mrs. Clark.

Rev. J. J. Collins conducted funeral services over the remains of Mrs.
Bridget Clark yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, the funeral being from St.
Patrick's church. The floral offerings were beautiful and included a handsome gates-ajar piece from the employees of the Richardson-Norcross Company, where the son of the deceased is employed. The interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery and the bearers were: Michael Dawson, Patrick Joyce, Spencer Schenckhorn, Michael Minnehan, John Hemming
Patrick Collins.

Edward Bush.

Beloit, Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Edward Bush, a well known conductor on the St. Paul road and a brother of Gen'l.
Supt. D. L. Bush, of the St. Paul, died at the home of his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. J. H. Bush, in this city Sunday morning at 6 o'clock. He leaves a wife and one child. Interment will be in Darien cemetery.

DR. MELVILLE'S UNUSUAL PLAN

She Proves the Merit of Her Treatment By Absolute Tests.

Dr. Anna Melville's Janesville and Rock county practice has grown strictly upon its merits. All who have attended her daily receptions or know her patients are glad to credit the remarkable story of her cures.
Dr. Melville desires that the poorest shall have the benefit of her skill and for the next ten days she will positively make no charge for consultation or treatment of new cases. A nominal charge to cover the cost of medicines is all that will be required.

Dr. Melville's cured patients are her advertisement.

Those who doubt Dr. Melville's ability to cure even after others have failed should investigate her cases and not permit ignorance or prejudice to keep them sufferers. Why remain sick when health is within reach.
Call on Dr. Melville at 105 S. Main street.

FAVOR CIGARETTE LICENSE

Local Dealers Want Council to Require An Annual Tax.

Local retailers are now striving hard to bring the matter of a license for the sale of cigarettes before the city council.
They favor the passage of an ordinance similar to the one adopted by the Chicago council, requiring a $100 license fee each year of all dealers who handle cigarettes.

John L. Spellman, who is one of the prime movers in this new scheme, says he has spoken to a number of the aldermen about it, and that while some favor it, others seem indifferent.

A LAND CASE IN THE COURT

Judge Bennett Passes on a Suit Concerning Avon Township Land.

Judgment was rendered in the circuit court this morning in favor of the defendant in the case of W. H.
Hopkins of Aurora, vs. L. B. Gregory of Rockford. The action involved $1,600, and was brought to redeem from a mortgage, a 120-acre tract of land in the town of Avon. Sutherland & Nolan appeared for the defendant, while the plaintiff was represented by Horace McElroy and John Cunningham.

ARQUETTE IN JAIL

AND GOODS FOUND

"SNIPE HILL" MAN IS LOCKED UP.

Sheriff Acheson and Chief Hogan Find a Box Full of Goods, Alleged To Have Been Stolen, Under His Bed—Says He Bought Them For Forty Dollars.

John Arquette, of Snipe Hill, was today occupying a cell in the Rock county jail charged with receiving stolen property.

Sheriff Acheson and Chief Hogan arrested Arquette late Saturday afternoon at his Snipe Hill home, the alleged stolen goods being found stored away in a wooden box beneath the bed.

The alleged plunder is supposed to have been taken from a St. Paul freight car near Milton several days ago and consists of four pair of slippers, one pair of shoes, two extra coats and vest, and six suits of men's clothing.

The prisoner stoutly maintains his innocence, claiming that he purchased the goods of strangers who offered them for sale to him for $40 cash.
The police place little reliance in the story and think the arrest of Arquette may enable them to land a gang of petty robbers and thieves who have been operating in this section of the state during the past few months.

Officers Surprise Him.

Since the Milton robbery the local police have been working in harmony with Detective Casey and his men, of the St. Paul system, and every clew was run down. One of these hints was to the effect that Arquette knew more about the late car robbery at Milton than he was willing to tell.
Saturday afternoon Sheriff Acheson and Chief Hogan planned a little surprise on Mr. Arquette, and when they unexpectedly waited in upon him, he knew not what to say.

At first he denied all knowledge of the goods, but when the box was hauled from under his bed he said he had purchased the goods of passing strangers.

The property recovered consists of new goods.

Detective Casey of the St. Paul road is expected in the city late this afternoon from Milwaukee, to see and get a description of the goods. Arquette will then get a chance to tell the truth.

Arquette and his wife are not living together now.

LORING PAINFULLY BURNED

Secretary of the Light and Power

OMAHA'S IMMENSE UMBRELLA.

When Raised It Will Be 250 Feet Above The Earth.

The last Paris exposition had its Eiffel tower, Chicago had its Ferris wheel, Nashville has its giant seasaw. The department of concessions of the Omaha Trans-Mississippi Exposition of 1898 has also received an application for space for the erection of a novel mechanical device, says the Manufacturer. It resembles the framework of a gigantic umbrella more than anything else which might be mentioned. The part corresponding to the stick of the umbrella is an immense cylinder, thirty feet in diameter, constructed of steel plates, firmly riveted, making a stand-pipe which rears its head 250 feet above the level of the ground. At the extreme top of this cylinder are fastened twelve long arms resembling the ribs of an umbrella. These are steel trusses reaching almost to the ground. At the lower end of each of these ribs is suspended a car for carrying passengers, each car having a capacity for twenty persons.

These monster ribs are raised by hydraulic power, acting by means of steel cables operating through the cylinder, aided by a mechanism greatly resembling that portion of an umbrella which comes into action when the umbrella is opened. By means of this mechanism the gigantic arms are raised until they are horizontal, the cars in the meantime being carried outward and upward until they reach a point 250 feet above the ground, the diameter of the huge circle formed by the suspended cars being also 250 feet. When the highest point has been reached another mechanism comes into play and the suspended cars are swung slowly around in a circle, after which they are lowered to the ground. The sides of the cars are of glass, so that the passengers may secure an extensive view of the surrounding country.

Her Nice Bit of Sarcasm.

There are two distinguished gifts. One was sarcasm and the other was water colors. She and Quatorze had been engaged once, and then they quarreled for some reason. Neither of them seemed to know exactly why, and I suppose that neither of them cared just now, for Quatorze was married the other day, and the girl sent a present to the wedding. The present was a water color done by her own deft fingers. The girl could paint well. The picture was a beautiful thing. It represented a great rock, which looked for all the world like a platform with steps leading up to the top of it. Overhead was a cloudless sky, full of sunshine, and with a blue in it that made you wish that the world were all sky, and that you were floating among the fleecy clouds on pinions of air. There were trees bending over that enchanted rock, and beyond were the shimmering waters of a lake.

"How beautiful!" exclaimed the bride. "How kind of Therese. She's such a dear, good girl. We will hang it in the parlor, won't we, dear?"

"I'm afraid the light won't be quite right," said Quatorze aloud.

To himself he said—
The water color was a picture of a rock at Lake George, where he and Theresa had sat two summers ago when he proposed to her.—New York Telegram.

Big Paper Contract.

One of the largest contracts recently made for paper was closed last week by one of the leading paper mills in Wisconsin. The paper goes to a wall paper manufacturing concern in Kansas City, and will require 120 cars, each containing 16 to 18 tons, to complete it. These cars if coupled together would make up a train considerably over a mile in length. This paper is to be used in the manufacture of wall paper, and it is estimated will produce 3,500,000 rolls of the finished goods, an amount almost impossible to conceive, as it means a single strip of paper 20 inches wide and 16,000 miles long, or long enough to reach two-thirds of the way around the globe.

Diminishing Immigration.

There is a marked falling off in the number of immigrants arriving in this country. The returns of the Immigration Bureau show that the number arriving during the nine months ending with the 31st of March was only 142,941, which is 66,689 less than the number arriving during the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year. The commissioner-general estimates that the decrease for the fiscal year which ends June 30th will be at least 93,000.

Morally Blind.

"You admit you are an impostor?" said the judge.
"No, I don't your honor."
"You claimed to be blind, and yet you have an unimpaired eyesight."
"That's true, your honor; but I'm morally blind, sir, and, not being able to see the harm in my innocent deception—"
"Six months," ejaculated the judge.

HYDROPHOBIA-PROOF DOGS.

A Simple Operation Performed by an Old Blacksmith.

"My father, who is an old man, has always been fond of dogs and he has always performed an operation on all the animals he has owned to prevent them from having the rabies," said a gentleman to a writer in the Baltimore Sun. "He has had but one animal affected, and in this case he failed to take the precaution he had done with the other dogs. When he was 17 years of age he knew a German blacksmith who owned two puppies. He called my father one day and said: 'I will show you something which will always be of use to you.' Taking one of the dogs, the blacksmith placed it on a boot top, and, pulling its mouth open, pulled the animal's tongue out. Then he took a sharp knife and made a slit under the dog's tongue, then took an awl and forced out a small worm. When he had completed the operation the blacksmith asked father to try his hand on the other animal, which he did. The blacksmith then said: 'These dogs will never have the hydrophobia. If they are bitten by a mad dog their jaws will lock and they will not be able to open them.' The speaker said his father had taken the precaution to follow the blacksmith's advice. One of the dogs which had been treated by this process was bitten by a dog which was mad and 'a few days the mouth of the dog became locked and the animal died without inflicting any injury to any one. The gentleman with the theory says he would like to have some of the medical fraternity experiment with two dogs, taking the worm from the tongue of one and leaving it in the tongue of the other, then inoculating both with the virus from a dog known to have been affected with the rabies.

DURING VICTORIA'S REIGN.

When Victoria ascended the throne she governed 26,000,000 people. Nowadays she governs 402,514,000.

Her empire extends over 11,399,316 square miles, or 2 per cent of the land of the globe.

When she was crowned the United States had only 17,000,000 people, and now its census reports 70,000,000.

When she was a girl the city of Melbourne in Australia consisted of a church, an inn, three shops, twenty huts and a kangaroo meat market. It is now Australia's largest city, with 500,000 inhabitants.

She has seen one-third of Africa rescued from the natives and brought under the influence of civilization, and great cities built where once savage forests stood.

When she was crowned Chicago was a village of 4,000, like many a small town now dotting our western prairies.

There were no telephones in her young days; immigrants came to America in sailing vessels and had to provide their own food; there was not a foot of submarine cable in existence; the spectroscope has been invented during her reign, and it has enabled scientists to discover twenty-four of the seventy-eight known elements.

Thirteen crimes were punishable by death when Victoria ascended the throne. Today there are but two—treason and murder.

When she was young there was no telegraph; no running water in houses; no street lighting; music was practically ignored, and nine out of every ten workmen were professed infidels. There was no gas, no photography.

Victoria has been contemporary to seventeen United States presidents, twenty-eight kings, six emperors, four czars, three queens, thirteen presidents, ten princes, five sultans, and many rulers of petty states in Europe and Asia.

She has over seventy descendants and sixty of these are alive.

Napoleon's Journey to Elba.

That the wrath of his subjects compelled the great Napoleon to play a very undignified part when he traveled from Fontainebleau to Elba in 1814 is known to all readers of history. The full details, however, of that wretched journey have only just been revealed by the publication of Count Paul Schouvaloff's original reports to Count Nesselrode. From Lyons onward the temper of the population grew more and more violent. At Orgon a gibbet had been prepared and the little escort had much difficulty in robbing it of so illustrious a victim. A few miles further Napoleon, becoming alarmed, donned the blue uniform and white cockade of one of the outriders, whom he induced to fill his place in the carriage. Thus attired he reached Aix at full gallop. Then the innkeeper's wife, ignorant of his identity, cried, "So Napoleon is coming! They had much better kill him at once. As soon as we get him on the sea they will certainly drown him." After hearing these words the emperor assumed the name of Lord Burghersh, but next morning borrowed the uniform of an Austrian general, and instead of occupying his own carriage drove behind it in a humble caliche as a member of the foreign suite.

MAKE GOLD.

The Process that the Indian Alchemists Use.

For a long time in India the apparent transmutation of tin, zinc, copper and mercury into precious metals has been practiced, says the Paris Cosmos. We have seen there with our own eyes a metal like gold issuing from the crucible of the Indian alchemist—a metal that could not be told from real gold by means of the touchstone. We may say, however, that in old India, as well as in young America, they have not yet succeeded in giving to the metal thus obtained the chemical properties of gold. On this point they are not more advanced in the one country than in the other, and the problem seems to us not to be near solution. The metal obtained can, in fact, be decomposed into its constituent elements. Nevertheless it may be interesting to present to public notice the Indian alchemists and to describe their methods. Around these personages many legends have sprung up. The people assert that they never come into a city except by divine inspiration, in order to cure illness and to enrich certain persons. There is a belief among the Hindus, very widespread, but purely fabulous, that they disappear at certain hours to rejoin the citters, divine naturalists of the early ages of India, who, according to Hindu tradition, meet with their divinity, Hari Ishari, on the summits of the Himalayas, to learn the secrets of nature.

The following is the method employed by these Indian alchemists to make their gold: We give literally, conforming to the weights and measures in India, the list of substances necessary for this delicate operation. These are, according to our documents:

Sulfur of Nelli-Kai (phylanthus lem-blica), 24 rupees' weight (7 ounces); white sedes of Abra precatarius, 9 rupees' weight (2½ ounces); one whole garlic; cinnabar, 6 rupees' weight (2 ounces); English orpiment, 6 rupees' weight; sal ammoniac, 6 rupees' weight. These are powdered separately, and then a paste is made of the whole, with three quarts of "paddy" made of the milky juice of asclepias gigantea. The whole is ground up with this milk. Then little hard balls are made of the mixture, and finally two satts are taken, of fine, hard earthenware, of such size that the material to be distilled occupies only one-third or one-fourth of the vessel. On the lower vessel another satti is soldered with potter's earth, after an opening has been made in the end of this second vase. Over this hole is fitted a bottle whose end is pierced, and it is carefully sealed to the vase. Into the lower vase are put the little balls described above, and the whole is then sealed up.

The powder, when vaporized, rises along the sides of the bottle and condenses around the hole. It is collected with a feather. Then zinc is taken; for each rupee's weight of zinc is allowed a quantity of the powder as large as two or three rice grains. The zinc and the powder are wrapped up together in a bit of paper or linen or a leaf. The whole is put into a crucible, which is then sealed with a paste composed of one part of cow-dung, one of charcoal and one of potter's earth. This is placed in a fire of wood charcoal and heated white hot, after which it is allowed to cool. Open the crucible—you are a rich man!

Not a Man.

It is not every great man who carries his honors as meekly as the mayor of Inverness, who rebuked an admiring crowd in the words: "Fr'ens, I'm just a mortal man like yersels." Sir Wilfrid Lawson tells the following story: "A woman was once pursuing her fugitive cow down a lane, when she called out to some one in front: 'Man, turn my cow!' The man took no notice and allowed the cow to pass. When she came up she said: 'Man, why did you not turn my cow?' He replied: 'Woman, I am not a man; I am a magistrate.'"—Household Words.

It heals everything except a broken heart, may be said of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Piles and rectal diseases, cuts, burns, bruises, tetter, eczema and all skin troubles may be cured by it quickly and permanently. O. D. Stevens.

The Inroads of the Wheel.

"Brother Jim has the bicycle face, Joe has the bicycle hump, Sister Sue has the bicycle leg and Tom has wheels in his head." "Any other bicycle ailments in the family?" "Well, papa says his pocketbook is badly punctured, so it must be getting pneumatic."—Truth.

King George Has Caught It.

"Let's see, the sultan is called the sick man of the east, isn't he?" "Yes, and from what has happened he seems to have sent the contagion over the border line."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

There is a time for everything; and the time to attend to a cold is when it starts. Don't wait till you have consumption, but prevent it by using One Minute Cough Cure, the great remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. C. D. Stevens.

Technical Terms.

He—My father began life as a peddler. She—Gracious! I didn't know they had bicycles as long ago as that!—Yonkers Statesman.

Bees must always be bartered; to sell them is considered most unlucky.

Don't nauseate your stomach with teas and bitter herbs, but regulate your liver and sick headache by using those famous little pills known as De Witt's Little Early Risers. C. D. Stevens.

ENGLISH IN CHINA.

The Emperor of the Far-Eastern Country Likes the Tongue.

For some time past the emperor of China has been taking lessons in English and likes to air his knowledge wherever he gets a chance, says the North China Daily News. The other day the Viceroy Liu of Nanking recommended to the throne a Taomi named Li, who boasts a "knowledge of foreign affairs," and his majesty at the audience asked the Taotai whether he knew any English. Having been recommended for his "knowledge," Li Taotai had to sustain his reputation, and so he replied "Yes," forgetting apparently that his imperial master had studied English and was still studying the language. Then came the attack. The unlucky Taotai was bombarded with "How do you do?" "Are you well?" "Thank you." "Sit down." "Have you been to England?" and the like, spoken with a rich Manchu brogue, in rapid succession. The poor Taotai was completely bewildered, of course, and instead of seeking for an escape by declaring tones of respectful admiration his extreme wonder at the imperial eloquence he began kowtowing on the polished marble floor. His majesty was so disgusted with this display of ignorance on the part of the audience-seeker that he roundly abused in Manchu the now trembling Taotai for daring to come before him "on a borrowed reputation." The unlucky Taotai was then almost driven from the audience chamber with the injunction "to keep an English book constant under his nose for three years at least if he wished to succeed at all in that line."

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

NATURE'S BALANCE.

Danger of Transplanting Insects and Plants.

The great and growing cost of the attempts in Massachusetts to exterminate the gypsy moth shows how serious may be the consequences to "the balance of nature" by the introduction of foreign insects or animals. A few of these moths were imported some years ago by an entomologist residing near Boston, says the New York Times. Several of the captives escaped from custody, and the state has spent $450,000 in the last four years in a vain attempt to exterminate their descendants. It is now estimated that at least $1,575,000 will be required and that the appropriation for five years to come should be $2,000,000 per annum. On the other hand, a perpetual appropriation of $100,000 per annum would serve to confine the moths to the district in which they are now found.

The problem resembles that which has taxed the resources of the Australian colonies since the progeny of half a dozen rabbits, imported from England, became so numerous that the maintenance of agricultural industries was menaced by their depredations. Australia has expended millions in rabbit proof fences and in devices for killing off the rabbits. But although bacteriologists have endeavored to remove them by disseminating the germs of fatal disease, the colonists have thus far been able to do no more than hold the animals in check. In Florida rivers have recently become choked by the rapid growth of a kind of hyacinth imported a few years ago, and considerable expenditure will be required to keep the streams open for navigation. These and other instances which might be cited show that the utmost caution should be observed with respect to the introduction to any country of insects or plants for which nature has made no preparations there, and the growth of which may not be restrained by natural enemies and checks with which they must contend in the countries from which they are brought.

BROTHERLY INTERCOURSE.

The Recluse Was Real Pleased, Though He Didn't Act So.

From the Youth's Companion: Silence is golden, but a "glum" man is more wearing in the long run than a garrulous one. Among the few who have a perfect genius for silence is a certain well known artist, whose reticence is the amusement and wonder of all who know him. A friend who had dropped into his studio one day was vainly endeavoring to draw Mr. H. into conversation, when the artist's brother appeared in the doorway.

"Hello, Tom!" said the brother. "Hello, John!" returned Tom, looking up from his easel with a smile. John wandered about the room for fifteen minutes, turned over his brother's latest work, and then going toward the door, stopped long enough to say, "Well, good-by, Tom!"

"Good-by, John!" was the hearty rejoinder.

Tom painted on for some minutes, and then, in an unthought burst of confidence, he said warmly to his amused friend:

"I tell you, I was glad to see John! Haven't seen him before for a month!"

Remarkable.

Unexpected humorous reading is provided by the report of the intermediate education board for Ireland, published recently. Perhaps the gem of the collection of bulls and blunders furnished by the examiners is the answer that "Milton's poem, which is modeled after the Greek, is 'Sampson's Agnostics.'" Poor Milton was also described as an "irreligious and licentious poet, who passed his time between the theater and the workshop," while his principal prose works were stated by a third candidate to be "Paradise Lost," "Paradise Regained" and "Paradise and the Peri!"—London Globe.

WOULDN'T WHOA.

Oregon Indian Trades His Horse for a Bicycle and Is Sorry.

The bicycle fever struck Siletz, but it did not last long, says the Lincoln County Leader. Jack Ross, an upper-farm Indian, traded his horse to some cultus white man for a bicycle. Very impatiently he waited for the mud to dry up so that he could try his new steed. Finally one day last week he started out to make his first trial. Going down by the river, he selected a nice, smooth, grassy slope. After getting on and off a few times in the usual graceful manner of beginners, he was finally firmly seated in the saddle, and wobbled around in great shape for a time. But fate was after him. In his wabbings he happened to head the machine down hill toward the river. He was delighted at the ease in which he ran the machine, and did not notice where he was headed until he was about ten feet from the steep bluff, that hung right over the deep water of the river, but it was then too late. He gave a wild yell, pulled back on the handle bars, and shouted "Whoa!" but to no avail, and at the next instant Jack and the wheel made a graceful curve and plunged into the deep, chilly water of the Siletz river. Presently a very wet and thoroughly disgusted Indian crawled unto the shore, dragging a bicycle out after him, and now the wheel is again for trade.

Two Famous Log Cabins.

At the Tennessee Centennial exposition are being exhibited the old cabin birthplaces of two famous American citizens. These cabins are genuine, as certified by affidavits in the possession of its owner and exhibitor. The Rev. W. G. Brigham, a Methodist minister, while traveling a circuit which embraced parts of Todd and Hardin counties, Kentucky, bought the two cabins and the land on which they stood. One of the cabins was built by Tom Linkhorn, and in it he lived with his wife, Nancy Hanks. In the cabin, without a floor, Abe Lincoln was born in the year 1809. Every log, except a few that did not withstand the ravages of time and the weather, is preserved. The other cabin is one in which the president of the late Confederacy was born. It came from near Fairview, Todd county, Kentucky. Mr. Davis was born here in 1808, and when 66 years old was given a banquet by old citizens of Fairview in the very same cabin. In responding to a toast he referred to the fact that he had stood in the halls of the Montezumas, in the halls of congress and in other historic places in America and other countries, but none of these had stirred his emotion as much as when once again standing in the old cabin in which he was born.—Nashville Banner.

A Remarkable 'Cure of Chronic Diarrhea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERGER, Allentown, Pa. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

A Conflict Of Evidence...

This is another remarkable story from the pen of Rodrigues Ottolengui, who wrote "An Artist in Crime," conceded to be the strongest detective tale that has appeared in years. "A Conflict of Evidence" will add to the reputation of Mr. Ottolengui and will fascinate all who have the opportunity to read it. We have provided for the readers of this paper by purchasing the serial rights. The first chapters will soon be printed.
